1 | Introduction

About the Report

This report provides a detailed analysis of the candidate's performance on different assessments. The tests for this job role were decided based on job analysis, O*Net taxonomy mapping and/or criterion validity studies. The candidate's responses to these tests help construct a profile that reflects her/his likely performance level and achievement potential in the job role

This report has the following sections:

The Summary section provides an overall snapshot of the candidate's performance. It includes a graphical representation of the test scores and the subsection scores.

The Insights section provides detailed feedback on the candidate's performance in each of the tests. The descriptive feedback includes the competency definitions, the topics covered in the test, and a note on the level of the candidate's performance.

The Interview Questions section provides a few probing questions on those competencies where the candidate's performance has been low. The interviewer can use these as a reference in case s/he wishes to assess the candidate on any of these competencies during the interview process.

The Proctoring section captures the output of the different proctoring features used during the test.

The Learning Resources section provides online and offline resources to improve the candidate's knowledge, abilities, and skills in the different areas on which s/he was evaluated.

Score Interpretation

All the test scores are on a scale of 0-100. All the tests except personality and behavioural evaluation provide absolute scores. The personality and behavioural tests provide a norm-referenced score and hence, are percentile scores. Throughout the report, the colour codes used are as follows:

- Scores between 67 and 100
- Scores between 33 and 67
- Scores between 0 and 33

2 | Insights

English Comprehension

40 / 100

CEFR: A2

This test measures the candidate's vocabulary, grammar and reading comprehension skills.

The candidate is able to state the meanings of English words used in day-to-day life. This is essential for him to read and understand short texts, write letters/emails, and understand internal communication at work.

Logical Ability

64 / 100

Inductive Reasoning

61 / 100

This competency measures the candidate's ability to synthesize information and derive conclusions.

It is commendable that the candidate has excellent inductive reasoning skills. He is able to apply specific observations to generalize situations and also formulate new generic rules from variable data.

Deductive Reasoning

70 / 100

This competency measures the candidate's ability to synthesize information and derive conclusions.

It is commendable that the candidate is able to break down complex data to develop specific rules and make logical deductions. He is able to take into account all possible variations to establish valid cause and effect relationships.

Abductive Reasoning

62 / 100

This competency measures the candidate's ability to reach a possible conclusion by forming and testing the hypothesis using the known information.

The candidate is able to use the available information and formulate simple hypothesis for further testing. But he may not be able to reach expected conclusions with more complex information.

Quantitative Ability (Advanced)

51 / 100

This test measures the candidate's ability to solve problems on basic arithmetic operations, probability, permutations and combinations, and other advanced concepts.

The candidate is good at basic arithmetic. He is able to solve real-world problems that involve simple addition, subtraction, multiplication and division.

Personality

Competencies

Extraversion

Extraversion refers to a person's inclination to prefer social interaction over spending time alone. Individuals with high levels of extraversion are perceived to be outgoing, warm and socially confident.

- The candidate feels comfortable spending time by himself.
- He prefers spending time alone rather than in social gatherings.
- He may not enjoy activities that involve thrill and excitement.
- He is thoughtful, introspective and refrains from impulsive remarks/actions. He often keeps his opinions and ideas to himself.
- He prefers to work on individual projects rather than group projects.
- He is more likely to prefer jobs that require minimal interaction with people.

Conscientiousness

Conscientiousness is the tendency to be organized, hard working and responsible in one's approach to her/his work. Individuals with high levels of this personality trait are more likely to be ambitious and tend to be goal-oriented and focused.

- The candidate is likely to value order and self-discipline and tends to pursue ambitious endeavours.
- He believes in the importance of structure and is very well-organized.
- He is likely to carefully review facts before arriving at conclusions or making decisions based on them.
- He adheres to rules strictly and carefully considers the situation before making decisions.
- He tends to have a high level of self confidence and does not doubt his abilities.
- The candidate generally sets and works toward goals, tries to exceed expectations and is likely to excel in most jobs, especially those which require a careful or meticulous approach.

Agreeableness

Agreeableness refers to an individual's tendency to be cooperative with others and it defines her/his approach to interpersonal relationships. People with high levels of this personality trait tend to be more considerate of people around them and are more likely to work effectively in a team.

- The candidate is likely to be considerate and sensitive to the needs of others.
- He tends to put the needs of others ahead of his own.
- He is likely to trust others easily without doubting their intentions.
- He is compassionate and may be strongly affected by the plight of both friends and strangers.

- He is humble and modest and prefers not to talk about personal accomplishments.
- The candidate's personality is more suitable for jobs demanding cooperation among employees.

Openness to Experience

Openness to experience refers to a person's inclination to explore beyond conventional boundaries in different aspects of life. Individuals with high levels of this personality trait tend to be more curious, creative and innovative in nature.

- The candidate tends to be curious in nature and is generally open to trying new things outside his comfort zone.
- He may have a different approach to solving conventional problems and tends to experiment with those solutions.
- He is creative and tends to appreciate different forms of art.
- He is likely to be in touch with his emotions and is quite expressive.
- The candidate's personality is more suited for jobs requiring creativity and an innovative approach to problem solving.

Emotional Stability

Emotional stability refers to the ability to withstand stress, handle adversity, and remain calm and composed when working through challenging situations. People with high levels of this personality trait tend to be more in control of their emotions and are likely to perform consistently despite difficult or unfavourable conditions.

- The candidate is likely to be sensitive, emotional and may tend to worry about situations.
- He may react to everyday events with greater intensity and may become emotional.
- He may hesitate to face certain stressful situations and might feel anxious about his ability to handle them.
- He may find it hard to elicit self restraint and may tend to make impulsive decisions.
- The candidate's personality is more suited for less stressful jobs.

Polychronicity

Polychronicity refers to a person's inclination to multitask. It is the extent to which the person prefers to engage in more than one task at a time and believes that such an approach is highly productive. While this trait describes the personality disposition of a person to multitask, it does not gauge their ability to do so successfully.

- The candidate prefers to work on one task at a time, complete it and then move on to the next.
- He prefers orderliness and likes to concentrate on the task at hand without any distractions.
- He can find it difficult to be placed in a work environment where there is a need to multitask or where expected to engage in multiple projects simultaneously.

Electrical Engineering (Level 1)

25 / 100

This test will assess your knowledge and understanding of concepts like analog electronic circuits, electrical circuit analysis and electrical & electronics engineering materials.

The candidate has very basic knowledge of the technical terms and understands elementary concepts. He needs to put in effort to improve his conceptual knowledge in electrical engineering. This will also build a strong foundation for him to learn more advanced topics of the subject.

3 | Interview Questions

Personality

Competencies

Extraversion ●

- Imagine a scenario where you traveled to a different country for work. In a business meeting with senior members, you used an English word whose equivalent in their language had a very different and derogatory meaning. They all looked at you in a strange way. How would you react?
- You enter a client meeting with 25 of the client's most senior executives. Your manager was supposed to deliver the presentation, but on the day of the meeting he is ill with laryngitis. He asks you to present in his place, since the two of you had written the presentation together. What would be your first reaction?

Conscientiousness ●

- Can you recall a time when you or your team made an unwise or imprudent decision based on bad or incomplete information? How did this decision affect the business?

Agreeableness ●

- Describe an instance when you successfully persuaded a client, manager, peer, or subordinate to adopt your position on an important issue. What strategy or approach did you use to convince them?

Openness to Experience ●

- Describe a time when you had to gather data to inform a critical decision. Why was the data so important? How did you gather the data? What would have been your decision if you had not had access to this extra information? What would have been the likely result?

Emotional Stability ●

- Describe your strongest and your weakest acquaintances. How do you cope with such a wide range of personalities?
- Describe an instance when you made a decision that was not popular with your team members. Why did your colleagues disagree, and why did you promote your decision over their objections?

Polychronicity ●

- You are a college student and you must complete an assignment for your professor. You are very familiar with the topic and the assignment is simple. What would be your work method in this instance? Would you watch TV and listen to music while completing it? Or would you concentrate on the assignment in silence, and then watch TV?

 Do you prefer to work on one project at a time or on multiple accounts? What do you think is the advantage of your way of working?
